

WHO ARE WE?

The Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) of Greater Minneapolis is an industry-leading organization of nearly 700 commercial real estate professionals in Minneapolis and its suburbs. As a federation of BOMA International, our purpose is to support the companies, organizations, and professionals who own, operate, and manage office buildings in the region.

History

We are the second-oldest BOMA nationally and we have been the voice of the region's commercial real estate industry since 1904. We are proud to be one of the oldest and most experienced organizations in this industry in the United States.

Impact

We represent 60 million square feet of commercial office space in the Greater Minneapolis area. BOMA membership is essential to a company's performance and its members' professional success. Membership in BOMA offers benefits to commercial real estate professionals that can't be found anywhere else.

Benefits

Advocacy

We offer a unifying platform relating to relevant topics in the commercial real estate industry. Members of BOMA benefit from the influence of our organization on public policy decision makers regarding a broad spectrum of issues at a local, state, and national level.

Education

BOMA offers educational opportunities that are relevant to today's commercial real estate industry. Members of BOMA benefit by continuing their professional growth and remaining informed of emerging industry trends.

Networking

We offer diverse and dynamic opportunities for networking between professionals within the commercial real estate industry. Members of BOMA benefit by connecting with their peers and industry leaders and by forming long-lasting relationships based on collaboration.
